

Working Student (m/f/d) Finance

fidor
BANK

München

Werkstudent

17.05.2021

Apply now

ABOUT FIDOR

Company background

Fidor Bank (Fidor) is a pioneering German Digital Bank based in Munich and Berlin. It was established in 2010 with a focus on providing innovative technologically enabled banking services. The bank's current sole shareholder, Groupe BPCE of France, has agreed the sale of Fidor to Ripplewood Holdings LLC (Ripplewood). Ripplewood is a leading financial sector specialist investor, based in the USA with a 25-year track record of successful investments across the globe. This transaction is expected to close during the first half of 2022.

Business Strategy

Fidor's current business is focussed on providing a fully digital banking experience to retail and SME customers in Germany. In addition, the bank has a strong market position in providing payment and transaction services to leading payment services providers and digital asset market participants. With the guidance and support of Ripplewood, Fidor is launching a new strategic plan which aims to reposition the bank as a leading partner for digital asset market participants and Fintech firms across Europe. The key product capabilities of the bank would encompass the entire spectrum of banking services including payments, lending, and savings to both individuals and SME customers.

FUN AND MOTIVATING TASKS

- Support in management of projects and transformation initiatives in the finance department in Fidor Bank
- Administrative and organizational support of the CFO and Finance Managers, particularly for:
  - Project planning
  - Documentation of project progress and milestones

- Preparation and follow-up of important meetings
  - Review of business requirements against our IT standard
  - Ensuring an efficient flow of information between the various stakeholders
- Takeover of smaller topics in personal responsibility possible on request

THIS IS HOW YOU COULD CONVINC US

- Student at a university (also Fachhochschule) for at least one additional semester, preferably in business, economics or similar field or IT studies
- Weekly availability of 15-20h (preferably more during semester break)
- Distinct IT affinity
- Independent and structured way of working
- Strong communication skills, as well as high customer and service orientation
- Confident in using MS-Office
- Highly proficient in spoken and written English, very good German skills are a plus

WHAT TO LOOK FORWARD TO

- Exciting tasks in an innovative fintech company
- High influence on the organization of own work processes
- Maximum flexibility through remote work
- Outstanding development opportunities for personal further education
- Attractive compensation
- Fidor Team Spirit - employee events, goal-oriented success strategies, shared visions and plans
- Office located near the city center

We could inspire you for us and this position? Then we look forward to receiving your application documents and your salary expectations. Click „Apply now“ and become a Fidorian!

Apply now